ATTENTION ATTRACTED

BY ROOSEVELT'S PROPOSED PEACE CONFERENCE

German Foreign Office in Sympathy With the Idea—English Officials Think the Time Is Not Opportune

Berlin, Sept. 26.—President Roosevelt's announcement Saturday of his intention to call a second peace conference of nations of the world, whose work should be supplemental to that of The Hague arbitration conference, attracts much attention here. The foreign office expresses itself generally as sympathetic toward the idea, if the president's propositions are confined to practical, tangible measures wihtout attempting anything like general disarmament or adjudication of difficulties, which may arise in an scheme of compulsory arbitration. The foreign office emphasizes the fact that Germany regards The Hague arbitration court as an institution capable of further development along practical lines.

Among foreign embassies it was learned by a representative of the Associated Press that the idea of an international political conference of the Russo-Japanese war would be considered inopportune by Russia, as questions now under controversy between Russia and several neutral powers would most likely be before it. The necessity for a conference after the war to define contraband, kind of ammunition, etc., is fully recognized.

London, Sept. 26.—The foreign office has received no official intimation from Washington of President Roosevelt's intention to call a meeting in regard to supplementing The Hague court. It is undoubtedly Great Britain's intention to be represented. It is suggested, however, in official and diplomatic circles that the time for a peace conference is not opportune in view of the war in the far east and the unwillingness of the belligerents to bind themselves to any act which might restrict their operations. Officials and diplomats express hope that when the president extends an invitation he will name a date that may include Japan and Russia.

IOWA CAPITOL NOT FIREPROOF.

Des Moines, Sept. 26.—Fitzhugh Taylor, underwriter's expert, to day reported to the state that he finds the capitol building neither fireproof nor fire-resisting and that it cannot be made so without a practically new building. He adds the building will always be subject to such fires as last January, which destroyed the interior of the north wing, causing a loss of $200,000. He recommends better water service, standpipes and a fire brigade for the building.

ROCK ISLAND SYSTEM.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 26.—Chairman L. A. Loree of the Rock Island system was in Topeka to day with a party of officials. Loree accounts for the drastic retrenchment of the Rock Island by light wheat shipments and the fact that corn shipments have not yet begun. He scoffs at the reported idea of a receivership for his road. He said: "This talk of financial stringency of the Rock Island is all rot. We hold to day more than eight millions to our credit in banks."

SUIT DISMISSED.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—The suit brought some time ago by S. G. Brabrook against Senator Depew of New York and the Penny Publishing company for an alleged debt of $200 was dismissed to day in Justice Hurley's court on the grounds Brabrook had waited to long before filing suit. BIG PLANTS REOPEN

Harvester Works and Pullman Company Resume Operations After Shutdown

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Nine thousand men returned to work to day with union regulations of any sort to day when the three Chicago branches of the International harvester works and the Pullman company reopened their shops after a shutdown of two weeks. The men not only returned to their former places, but also agreed to a reduction in pay from 10 to 20 per cent. Before the shutdown the International harvester works recognized union labor, but with the announcement of resumption of work to day came the statement that the company would not renew its agreements with the trades unions and that the plants would be operated on the basis of fifty-seven and a half hours a week, instead of fifty-four with no increase of wages. The men accepted the ultimatum without serious manifestation of discontent and all old employes who could obtain work accepted the new regulations.

The case of the Pullman employes is different, inasmuch as the Pullman company announced shrdluJPuwercope-a:cea. pany has ignored trades unions since the strike in their plant in 1894. The Pullman company announced to day that it would reopen its shops, but at a wage reduction of 10 to 20 per cent. Less than 2,000 workers were given their former positions, but these men willingly accepted the decrease in wages and several thousand former employes left the yards of the company to night bitterly disappointed because they could not get work even at reduced wages. It is the intention of the Pullman company to have its plant in ful operation by next Monday.

FLANKING MOVEMENT

BEING PLANNED BY JAPS AGAINST KUROPATKIN

Indications are discerned at St. Petersburg that the Japanese are planning a flanking movement against Kuropatkin's left to compel retirement from Sintsintin. Kuroki is supposed to design crossing the Hun river at a point considerably east of Mukden, from which he is expected to move down that stream and co-operate with the army from Sianchan, while Oku and Nodzu hold Kuropatkin south of Mukden. The Japanese attacks on Da pass and Saniungku are regarded as confirmation of this theory. The outposts of Oku and Nodzu have been in conflict with Cossacks between Bentsiaputze and the railroad. No news has been received from Port Arthur.

The Mail's Liao Yang correspondent says:

"The discovery in the abandoned Russian headquarters here of a number of documents and orders from Viceroy Alexieff cashiering officers for abandoning positions and for drunkenness, etc., and censuring officers for lawless treatment of Chinese, waste of ammunition and other offenses, is proving amazing lack of discipline in Kuropatkin's army."

WISCONSIN REPUBLICANS

WAITING FOR COURT OPINION TO DAY

Question of Which Republican Ticket Shall Appear on Ballot at November Election to Be Decided by Supreme Judges.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 26.—Adherents of Governor Lafollette and followers of the other faction of Wisconsin Republicans are anxiously waiting for opening of the supreme court to morrow. It is expected by both factions that within a few minutes after court has opened a decision will be handed down deciding whether names of candidates nominated in the "stalwart" convention, headed by Samuel Cook for governor, or in the "halfbreed" convention, headed by Lafollette for re-election, shall appear on the ticket to be used at the November election. No official announcement has been made by any persons connected with the supreme court that the decision is to be made to morrow or at any other specific time. None of the judges to day would discuss the matter in any way. Attorneys for both factions, however, and a host of politicians are confident a decision will be made.

Action on which the decision is to be based was brought by the "stalwarts" to restrain Secretary of State Houser from certifying to county clerks throughout the state the names of the men nominated in the "halfbreed" convention for various state offices. Certification to clerks is equivalent to ordering names placed on the tickets. The court is also asked to command the secretary of state to certify to county clerks the names of men named for the same positions by the "stalwarts."

The question of printing the names of presidential electors in the name column on the ticket with the names of members of the "stalwarts," should the decision favor that faction is also involved. There is no dispute as to the personnel of the electors, both factions having selected the same men, but eleven of the thirteen electors signed a paper asking that their names be not printed in the same column with the "stalwart" candidates for state offices should these be finally placed upon the ticket. The court is asked to order that the names go in the same column.

The "halfbreed" reply to the "stalwart" action is that the proceedings which resulted in the nomination of the Lafollette men by their state convention is the only body with power to name candidates and that the secretary of state is bound to certify the names presented him by the state convention. It is denied that the supreme court has any jurisdiction in the premises and that it must therefore decline to interfere. There are numerous assertions and direct contradictions of facts in statements made to the court, but the uestion to be decided is whether or not the supreme court of the state has power to take the action asked for by the "stalwarts."

BIDS MEMBBERS FAREWELL.

DISCUSSED BY SPEAKER CANNON IN NEBRASKA

Hastings, Neb., Sept. 26.—Speaker Cannon spoke here this afternoon, discussing that part of Judge Parker's letter of acceptance relating to the president's order providing for a graduated pension scale. "In Parker's first acceptance by speech," said Cannon, "he complained of expenditures of the government under Republican rule, and Roosevelt came back at him and said, 'How are you going to cut down these expenditures? Are you for repeal of that executive order relating to soldiers?'

"And Parker now comes back in his letter of acceptance just issued and says: 'If I am elected president I will rescind that order.'

"And then he goes on and says: 'But after I rescind it I will use my influence with congress to pass a bill giving an age service pension to the soldier that performed service in the civil war.'"

Cannon wanted to know what age Parker meant, and asked what would be done for the 25,000 or 50,000 people who would have their pensions taken away by the proposed rescinding order pending decision upon the question of age. Citing statistics on fourteen pension bills that have passed congress, Cannon said that 417 Democrats voted for them and 648 against and that 1,008 Republicans voted for them and none against.

Referring again to Parker's promise, Cannon said: "He is to take pensions away from thousands of people and only replace them by a promise to use his influence with a party in congress that has a notorious record against that very thing."

"THE GAZETTEER OF ILLINOIS"

PUBLISHED BY J. M. PECK IN 1837

In 1837 J. M. Peck, A. M., published a gazetteer, "The Gazetteer of Illinois," which contained a general view of the state; a general view of each county, and a description of each town, settlement, etc. It will be interesting to our readers to know what was said of the educational institutions of Jacksonville at that time, and we are indebted to Hon. E. A. Snively, of Springfield, for a copy of what the Gazetteer contained in regard to said institutions. The copy being as follows:

ILLINOIS COLLEGE.

"This institution is located in the village of Jacksonville, and one mile west of the town. Its situation is on a delightful eminence, fronting the east and overlooking the town, and a vast extent of beautiful prairie country now covered with well cultivated farms.

"This institution owes its existence and prosperity, under God, to the pious enterprise of several young men formerly members of Yale college, Connecticut. Most of its funds have been realized from the generous donations of the liberal and philanthropic abroad.

"The buildings are as follows: A brick edifice, 104 feet in length, 40 feet in width, five stories high, including a basement; containing 32 apartments for the accommodation of officers and students. Each apartment consists of a sitting room, or study 14x12 feet; two bed rooms, each 8x8 feet; two dress closets and one wood closet. The basement story embraces a boarding hall, kitchen, store room, etc., for the general accommodation. To this main building are attached two wings, each 38 feet long and 28 feet wide, three stories high, including the basement; for the accommodation of the families of the faculty.

"The chapel is a separate building, 65 feet long and 36 feet wide, two stories high, including rooms for public worship, lectures, recitations, library, etc., and eight rooms for the students.

"There are also upon the premises a farm house, barn, workshop for students who wish to perform manual labor, and other outbuildings.

"The farm consists of 300 acres of land, all under fence. The improvements and stock on the farm are valued at several thousand dollars.

"Students who choose are allowed to employ a portion of each day in manual labor, either upon the farm or in the workshop. Some individuals earned $150 each during the year.

"The library consists of about 1,500 volumes. There is also a valuable chemical and philosophical apparatus.

He was brought to this city Friday night and placed in the county jail. He will have a preliminary hearing before Esquire Gray Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. H. M. Ticknor has been employed by Mr. Gorman and the state will be represented by State's Attorney Smith.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION

Legislative Candidates in 45th District Will Be Named by Republicans in Springfield to Day.

The Forty-fifth district Republican senatorial convention will be held in the arsenal building at Springfield to day at noon. The senatorial committee will meet at the same place at 11 o'clock for the purpose of passing on the Sangamon county contest. W. H. Butler, chairman of the committee, will probably call the convention to order.

The purpose of the convention is to nominate two candidates for the state legislature. There are no avowed candidates for the office from either county, and it cannot be foretold who will be the nominees till the convention meets. It is possible that the delegates from each county will decide upon a candidate and that the convention will ratify the independent action. Hon. A. G. Murray, who was a member of the last house, is understood to be a receptive candidate and his name will doubtless be placed before the convention.

The chairman of the senatorial committee is H. W. Butler, of Springfield, and the secretary is S. B. Stewart, of this city. The members of the committee are G. C. Garvey, Fred Overstreet, John Juneman, O. G. Addleman, of Sangamon county, and Andrew Russel, John R. Robertson and J. H. Danskin, of Morgan county.

The delegates to the convention are: Morgan county—S. B. Stewart, William Nunes, Hawes Yates, George W Moore, Allinson Thomason, Edward Kastrup, G. W. Scott, A. M. Upham, S. Bolden, E. F. Johnston and Dave McLean.

The Sangamon delegates, who were elected at the time the Yates primaries were held, are: C. H. Wineman, H. Sallee, Charles Reech, P. O. McGrue, C. J. Wirth, Roy Reece, Charles Price, W. M. Duggan, Joseph Midden, W. H. Sammons, James Phillips, James Harris, R. Solomon, F. F. Phillo, G. J. Sinniger, Robert Byron, W. E. Savage, Thomas Kenneth, W. P. Taylor, W. Joy, W. T. Fossett, Frank Whipp, W. D. Edwards and Benjamin Edwards.

Mr. Frank Eberle, of the general press department of the Louisiana Purchase exposition, was in the city Monday interviewing Mayor Davis in regard to Jacksonville day at the fair. The exposition authorities are anxious to have a number of the larger cities in Illinois become interested in having a special day at the fair and a special program of exercises will be held at the Illinois building in charge of the city officials of each city.

Mayor Davis will call a meeting of the council to informally discuss the matter and will also consult with the Business Men's association before taking any steps. The date for Jacksonville day will be Tuesday, Oct. 4.

FEET SWOLLEN TO IMMENSE SIZE.

"I had kidney trouble so bad that I could not work," says J. J. Cox, of Valley View, Ky., "my feet were swollen to immense size and I was confined to my bed and physicians were unable to give me any relief. My doctor finally prescribed Foley's Kidney Cure, which made a well man of me." For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

A REMARKABLE MACHINE.

Not all the geniuses of the world are to be found in the upper walks of life, as can be shown to any person who will take the trouble to go to J. F. Brennan's shop on South Sandy street, and there see a motocycle, made by a colored young man, Ollie Mack, of this city, a person who has never worked a day in a machine shop except on this machine; who never took a lesson from any expert, and who studied out the whole thing from catalogues and examining machines already made. The young man went to school when a boy, passing through the fifth grade and then left his books and went to work, the work being all right and honorable, of course, though it is unfortunate that such a genius should not have the benefit of learning. Ollie had a desire to construct a motorcycle and almost went hungry in order to save money to buy the necessary tools and material. He was kindly furnished shop accommodations by Mr. Wolke and Mr. Brennan and now he has his machine, after much labor and thought. He has endevored to save weight and cumbersome appearance and has succeeded to a good degree. He bought a frame and, in the upper tube, which he lenghtened, he put his gasoline tank. He procured the spokes and rims and made his wheels; he bought the castings in the rough for the engine and with blue prints put it into shape; he experimented and labored early and late during his spare moments and made or put into shape and position, battery, wires and all the various parts of the complicated affair. He has a number of original ideas, and while he has made many of the parts from materials such as he could procure, he has, under the circumstances, done wonders. He is a young man of good habits and should yet be heard from in life.

SERGEANT SMITH'S SEARCH

Traveled All Over the World, But Not Successful Until He Reached Jacksonville.

Sergeant Smith, who is remembered here as having been one of the first to join the rough riders, was in town yesterday, visiting old friends for the first time in many years.

He said that it was odd, but in all his travels he had never found a good 5c cigar until he went into Armstrong & Armstrong's drug store yesterday, where he bought a Wadsworth Bros. "Chico." Sergeant Smith has smoked Porto Rican cigars, Cuban perfectos and Manila cheroots, but from now on, says he will have nothing but the "Chico," as it is a good, clean cigar, with long Havana filler, smoking with a firm ash and a regular 25c fragrance.

Armstrong & Armstrong have just secured the local agency for the "Chicos" and want all the smokers of Jacksonville to try them and see if Sergeant Smith is not a good judge of a cigar.

STOP THE PRACTICE.

The Wabash road is taking commendable pains to stop the practice of jumping on trains, which has been so much in vogue among boys in this city. That more have not been killed or injured seems little short of a miracle. The writer well remembers seeing some years since the body of a boy lying on the track near the North Main street crossing, the head of the lad crushed by a pitiless car wheel, and that boy was the second one in the same family to meet death in that manner. There is a law forbidding minors to attach themselves in any way to cars, whether stationary or in motion, unless the persons mentioned are passengers or employes of the road. Some years ago a man went to the Wabash agent in this city, demanding in stern tones that measures be taken to enforce the law, and the official agreed to do so and had the first offender arrested, and he proved to be a son of the man complaining, and because the statutes were enforced the father became the implacable enemy of that agent from that time forward, though the latter was one of the best men on the line. This time the company sent two men down from Springfield and they arrested Fred Runkel and Ray Walker and brought them before 'Squire Reid, who fined Runkel $5 and costs and continued the case of Walker.

Why is Hercules Flour the best on the market?

First: Because it is made from the very best selected wheat.

Second: Because with the improved machinery we have in our mill it is free from dust and dirt. We let the dust collectors eat the dust and give you purer, whiter flour than any on the market.

Third: We have testimonials that will prove to you that it will make better bread, biscuits or cakes than any flour you have ever used. Try one sack and you will be convinced.

NEW ELECTRIC ROAD

A. L. Hamilton Here Monday in Interest of Waverly—Jacksonville Connection.

A. L. Hamilton, the well known attorney of Waverly, was in the city Monday in the interests of a proposed electric line of railroad between this place and Waverly. Mr. Hamilton says it is the desire to combine the road with the proposed line from Jacksonville to Winchester, and should it fail the next move will be to get a line from Waverly to Springfield by way of Auburn. He is receiving some encouragement, though so far the enterprise has not assumed very definite shape. The line would certainly be a good thing for Jacksonville in many ways and the Journal would like to see it built.

Republicans have ceased being alarmed over the large crowds that flock to hear Bourke Cockran speak. People are still curious.

It is not too early to decide whether your vote shall be for a continuance of prosperity or for a deadlocked congress and business stagnation.

Senator Bailey and Editor Watterson should be encouraged to remain on the stump. Their follies are certain to increase President Roosevelt's majority.

Oregon, Vermont and Maine have furnished unmistakable evidence that the country is satisfied with Republican progressive rule.

Democrats, if placed in power, might not declare openly for free trade and tariff legislation would lead directly toward free trade. Nearly every Democratic member of the House to day is a free trader

Free trade is so discredited that even some of the old Bourbon Democratic Congressmen themselves blush for it; but at heart they worship their idol just as devoutly, although less openly.

The only danger that can possibly come to the workingmen of this country is through their own acts by their own power and their own ability to change the tariff policies under which we have become prosperous.

The leaders of the Democracy for the moment are the "conservatives" of the clan Esopus, but the rank and file are the Bourbons of the old slave holding states, to whom free trade is a sacred theory.

The result of encouraging and enabling Americans to engage in the manufacture of tin plate, to the consumer, has actually decreased in cost under the protective tariff. To remove the tariff would be to discharge our workingmen and yet not lessen the cost to the consumer. That seems such a simple problem that it is incredible the Democrats should insist upon breaking down that industry with free trade.

A Household Cough Syrup.

This cough syrup is easily made and very good. Take a small handful of dried hops and a small handful of dried horehound and put in a cup of cold water. Let this steep until the strength of the herbs is drawn out. Then strain through a cloth. Add to this one cup (ordinary coffee cup) of honey and two cups of sugar. Let this mixture boil slowly until thick. Pour into a wide mouthed bottle or small jar, and it is ready for use. Take one teaspoonful every hour until the cough is relieved.—Brown Book.

Renovating Old Trays.

Old and shabby trays may be renovated by being painted with copal varnish mixed with bronze powder. Before beginning the painting the trays must be well cleaned with soap and water and thoroughly dried. The varnish can be dried by placing the trays in the oven, but care must be taken that it is not too hot. Two or more coats of varnish applied thinly may be necessary to produce a good effect.

DOCTORS COULD NOT HELP HER.

LECTURE ON THE PASSION PLAY

CHAS REIGN SCOVILLE GREETED BY LARGE AUDIENCE

An audience that taxed the capacity of the building to the utmost gathered at the Christian church last evening to hear Charles Reign Scoville in his wonderful lecture on the "Passion Play," assisted by Miss Sarajane Mathews, soprano, and DeLoss Smith, tenor. The large auditorium was crowded and the Sunday school room was thrown open to accommodate a large number who could not be seated elsewhere. Owing to failure to make connections Mr. Scoville was delayed in reaching the city and did not arrive until about 8 o'clock. The audience patiently awaited his arrival and in the expectations of an evening of rare pleasure were not disappointed.

During the delay Miss Olive E. Brady played several organ numbers very acceptably. Upon the arrival of Mr. Scoville he was greeted with a spontaneous outburst of applause.

The program opened with a vocal selection, "The Swallows," beautifully sung by Miss Mathews, who was accorded a hearty encore, to which the gifted vocalist responded with a beautiful Scotch number. Mrs. C. A. Johnson was the accompanist for both selections.

Mr. Scoville was then introduced and after a few introductory remarks, in which he expressed his pleasure at again standing before a Jacksonville audience, said that he felt perfectly at home here. He then suggested that the lecture might fittingly be preceded by prayer and the audience stood while the Lord's Prayer was said in concert, led by Rev. R. F. Thrapp. Mr. Scoville then entered upon his theme, each step in the story of the great Passion Play being illustrated by magnificent views projected upon a canvas. The story was prefaced by views taken while enroute to Oberammergau, including some grand views of the Alps. Dozens of views were shown, giving scenes in the vicinity of the town of the great Passion Play, and these were covered with a continuous run of description, explanation and inimitable anecdote from the gifted speaker. His portrayal was exceedingly vivid and the audience was held as if by a charm, whose magic power was broken only when the lecturer ceased to speak. The realistic vividness of the views, together with the unusual suggestiveness of the subject, and the earnestness of the speaker, combined to make the production an exceedingly impressive one.

At the conclusion of the closing scene Mr. Scoville offered a brief prayer. He then introduced DeLoss Smith, musical director of the Metropolitan church of Chicago, of which Mr. Scoville is pastor, who sang in a perfect manner "Mona," by Adams. The beautiful number was accorded a hearty encore, to which Mr. Smith responded with "Crossing the Bar," Tennyson's immortal poem, to which beautiful music has been written by Dudley Buck. Mrs. A. G. Burr and Miss Olive Brady were the accompanists.

At the close of the program an informal reception was given Mr. Scoville and Mr. Smith and many pleasant acquaintances were renewed.

CURED HEMORRHAGE OF THE LUNGS.

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

by side, for comparison—the blue grass and redtop, the lawn mixtures and sand grasses. The farmer with much poor land who might raise sheep if the pasture held out will be interested in the sheep's fescue, a fine, luxuriant grass that the woolly herd finds palatable and that grows on otherwise hopeless land.

Somebody has been robbing birds' nests in Pennsylvania, and here is the loot, but since it was done in the interest of education the offense is somewhat mitigated. Nests, eggs and all have been brought to the world's fair, and in the Pennsylvania section of the Palace of Agriculture you may see them. Bird lovers will find here a chance to improve their acquaintance with the songsters of the fields and groves, the hills and shady glens. Here is the huge white egg of the big bald eagle, and here, too, are the wee white eggs, almost transparent, of the humming bird. If you have a bit of curiosity about the eggs of the wild birds and fowls or the nests they build you will fly at once to these interesting cases on entering the Agriculture building. Tobacco is exploited as one of the great money making crops of the state, but a pretty show is made of all the common wild animals, the trees and nuts, the wool and other familiar things of rural Pennsylvania. A great number of farm scenes in revolving racks enable one to make a sightseeing tour of the state in a few moments.

Just to get a glimpse of the Russian sable skins, a little bigger than your hand and worth $50 apiece, it is worth one's while to stop in the Alaskan building. The sable skins are put away in a burglar proof safe every night and jealously guarded by day—so untrustworthy is the miscellaneous public! The big polar bear skin rug on the wall is priced at $500, but of course not for sale. The silver gray fox skin is almost worth its weight in gold, and the Siberian wolf skin, from the Aleutian islands, is valued at five double eagles. The kadiak is the largest of all bears; in fact, one of the largest of existing animals. To tell just how one of the kadiak skins happened to be here would make a thrilling narrative, for they are not animals of docile nature. The whitest of white things is a white fox skin. They are not of great value, but have genuine beauty. The only valuable fur bearing animal missing from the Alaskan collection is the sea otter, now a rare and elusive creature, seldom taken even in Alaska.

A study of the common wild animals of Missouri may be made from a safe distance in the hunters' park, just west of the Palace of Forestry, Fish and Game. The wild fowl of the state and some of the larger birds are on the right as you enter. At the far end is a hunter's lodge with a display of fowling pieces and stuffed game birds. The gray wolf, coyote, beaver, raccoon, skunk, woodchuck, deer and other animals are in roomy cages and generally in fine condition.

HORSE RAN AWAY.

Mr. Lincoln, principal of the Chandlerville schools, and Miss Waters, of this city, were the victims of a most unfortunate runaway Monday evening about 9 o'clock. They were driving a horse to a runabout from the stable of D. E. Kennedy, when the animal took fright near the residence of H. H. Massey. The occupants were thrown from the runabout and the horse continued north at a mad pace.

Mr. Lincoln and Miss Waters were compelled to walk to the city. Mr. Kennedy was notified and started out to find the horse, but at an early hour this morning had been unable to find any trace of him. The animal is a bay horse 5 years old, which Mr. Kennedy recently purchased from the neighborhood of Concord, and it is possible that the animal may have returned to his former owner.

[Chicago], Sept. 26.—Wheat—The start was [firm] on rather bullish foreign statistics, [but we]akened suddenly on free selling by [commissio]n interests and local longs. Pro[fessional] specialists also sold and on the de[cline] considerable long property came out [o]n [st]op orders. Large receipts in the west with primary movement 724,000 [bu., which] is larger than a year ago was one of [the] chief bear factors. Liverpool was [unchanged to] ½d higher. Closing prices were [½@]¾c lower than Saturday's final figures.

Corn—There was fair trade and weaker [prices.] [The fl]oor traders evidently went home [long] [S]aturday and the early support was [of] the indifferent sort, the country appar[ently] being bearish, as a good deal of the selling was by receiving and cash houses. Wheat was weak and new corn was offer[ed] more freely to arrive in December. Liverpool unchanged to ⅛c higher. The closing prices showed declines of ⅜@1c. The visible increase was 819,000, against [illegible] a year ago.

Oats—Closed at bottom and lowest of the season. Net losses of ½@⅝c were [illegible]. There was advance of ¼c early, followed by a break of ⅝@¾c. CURE FOR SICK HEADACHE.

We had a letter the other day from a lady in the town of Boulder, Colo., that should be of interest to people who are troubled with spells of sick headache. She writes that she had these spells about four times a week, was obliged to go to bed and remain there from eight to ten hours each time. Had been troubled this way for several years, and the attacks became more frequent. Doctors did her no good; she tried dieting, as everybody said it was from her stomach. Seeing an advertisement of Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, which said, they cure sickheadache by removing the cause, she decided to try once more, and sent 50c for two boxes. She said she had taken the last pill more than four months ago and has not had a sick spell of any kind for over five months. Druggists sell these pills at 25c per box. It only takes one for a dose, they cure sickheadache every time. Leo P. Allcott.

The Glidden Auto Cup.

At an informal meeting of the officers of the American Automobile association held in St. Louis recently to consider the conditions under which a $2,000 touring cup should be competed for the following suggestions were adopted:

The cup shall be known as the Charles G. Glidden touring cup.

The cup shall be competed for annually, beginning with the year 1905, by members of the American Automobile association or by any club in the world recognized by them. Each contestant shall have been a member at least one year.

The distance driven shall not be more than 1,000 miles nor less than 500 miles weekly and shall be over regularly used highways.

The car shall be driven by the owner or driver approved by committee, the owner being a passenger in the car.

The contests for the years 1905, 1906 and 1907 shall be held in either the [illegible]

Ruhlin and Munroe.

Gus Ruhlin is only too willing to fight Jack Munroe. Harry Pollok's challenge to the burly Swiss has been accepted by Billy Madden, Ruhlin's manager, who said that he would consider any reasonable offer from a responsible club.

Munroe is foolish to take on Ruhlin, who can assuredly beat him. As Bat Masterson says, Ruhlin took ten times more beating from Jeff before stopping than did any other of the heavies, and when the miner couldn't even tickle the champion with his punches what is he going to do with a man who stood up under a fusillade of the boilermaker's mightiest blows and fought him back?

Madden has been working steadily with Ruhlin until the big fellow is as fast and strong as a featherweight. It is really remarkable how this overgrown Swiss has been transformed into a graceful boxer of the highest technical skill. One has to doubt if Munroe could put a glove on Gus.

Harry Pollok says that, before the match was made with Jeff, Munroe promised Ruhlin a fight, win or lose, and that he will live up to his word.

McGinley Sold to Nichols' Team.

Pitcher James McGinley of the Haverhill New England league club has been sold to the St. Louis Nationals.

He will not join the team until after the close of the New England league season, one of the terms of the sale being that he shall be allowed to finish the season with the Haverhill nine.

Playing Manager Charles Nichols of the St. Louis Nationals visited Haverhill recently and closed the deal, it being at his suggestion that the purchase price w[as] withheld.

ONLY DID HIS DUTY AS HE SAW IT.

"I deem it my duty to add a word of praise for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says J. Wiley Park, the well known merchant and postmaster at Wiley, Ky. "I have been selling it for three or four years, and it gives complete satisfaction. Several of my customers tell me they would not be without it for anything. Very often, to my knowledge, one single dose has cured a severe attack of diarrhoea, and I positively know that it will cure the flux (dysentery). You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you please." Sold by all leading druggists.

Miss Whittaker, a prominent club woman of Savannah, Ga., tells how she was entirely cured of ovarian troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a Uterine Tonic and Regulator. I suffered for four years with irregularities and Uterine troubles. No one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental misery those endure who are thus afflicted. Your Vegetable Compound cured me within three months. I was fully restored to health and strength, and now my periods are regular and painless. What a blessing it is to be able to obtain such a remedy when so many doctors fail to help you. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had. Very truly yours, MISS EASY WHITTAKER, 604 39th St., W. Savannah, Ga."

No physician in the world has had such a training or such an amount of information at hand to assist in the treatment of all kinds of female ills as Mrs. Pinkham. In her office at Lynn, Mass., she is able to do more for the ailing women of America than the family physician. Any woman, therefore, is responsible for her own trouble who will not take the pains to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free.

A letter from another woman showing what was accomplished in her case by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: I am so grateful to you for the help Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me that I deem it but a small return to write you an expression of my experience.

"Many years suffering with weakness, inflammation, and a broken down system, made me more anxious to die than live, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound soon restored my lost strength. Taking the medicine only two weeks produced a radical change, and two months restored me to perfect health. I am now a changed woman, and my friends wonder at the change, it is so marvellous. Sincerely yours, MISS MATTIE HENRY, 429 Green St., Danville, Va."

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women prove beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters, and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

KUECHLER'S DRUG STORE

THE PLAGIARIST

This is a tale of love, pure and simple, which shows how my brother Herbert nearly won the privilege of providing for the keep of Miss Mary Ashton, our cousin, for the term of her unnatural life. She, however, now ornaments another's home, and Herbert's heart is dead.

Herbert had long loved Miss Ashton, literally from afar, she being sublimely long and he more than common squat. However, this defect he shared with Cupid himself, who is always represented as diminutive and pudgy, and Mary, I really think, was not averse to my brother's suit, for she frequently dropped smiles on the top of his tall hat, much to its wearer's content. She also said she would not hear a word against him. This was generally when there was nothing more to say. Even a bishop could find something funny to say of a short man. Nevertheless Herbert was happy under the smiles of his beloved.

But, alas, there came a day when the smiles were directed elsewhere, and Herbert found that Mary could never be more than a sister to him. It was astonishing to hear him recite this declaration of hers as a choice specimen of feminine feeling and originality. Young as I was I knew that remark, having taken to myself several such voluntary relations whose existence I had immediately forgotten. But Herbert derived a gloomy consolation from this promise of sisterly affection and even quoted the length of his nether garments as ample justification for Mary's decision. He was certainly petite, and magnanimity was strong within him.

The wrecker of my brother's hopes was none other than Eric Frodsham, whom you may recognize as the author of certain chaotic pieces of literary composition. We had known Frodsham as a distant acquaintance for a long time and had watched the tortuous trimble of his literary career. In the beginning when the world was young Frodsham wrote plain, clear novels, which were a lasting joy to his stationer, to whom the selling of papers was a high mission in life. These works for the most part blushed unseen on Frodsham's table till their author succeeded them with a weary work, the title of which, "A Secret Vow," was the only intelligible part of the volume. Probably for this reason the book was an instantaneous success, and Frodsham was a celebrity. He was interviewed, and we all recognized in his conversation the good things we had said to him in times past. Mary then fell in love with him and joined our family as a sister to Herbert. We appreciated her kindness.

My brother at this time was eminently depressing as a companion, and gloom was imprisoned in the corrugations of his brow.

One day he came to me in a state of virtuous wrath, waving a daily paper round his head. He was speechless with indignation, so I relieved him of the journal and discovered the cause of his excitement. Some clever person had read "A Secret Vow" and in a letter to the Herald had pointed out that the work was an unblushing plagiarism of an unknown novel published anonymously some years previously under the title of "On His Oath." Frodsham had evidently been guilty of literary theft.

"The scoundrel," said my brother at length. "He's stolen somebody else's brains and my love. He's nothing more than a thief. I'll expose him to Mary."

"Where is Frodsham?" I asked.

"On his way to New York. But I can't let that high minded girl remain fettered to such a villain, can I? I'll tell her at once in case she hasn't heard the news."

"Better not," I remarked. "If she loves Frodsham she won't thank you. Let things take their course."

But Robert didn't. He told Miss Ashton there and then, and that young lady listened to the tale. She expressed herself as being greatly shaken and unable to decide what to do. She also wondered about the deceit of man, which impressed Herbert. Finally she told my brother he might call and see her, and he returned to me beaming. Incidentally he referred to Frodsham as a "poor devil." Herbert was magnanimity itself.

Mary smiled sweetly, but sadly, as an angel whose wing had been broken by a brick. Her grief was picturesque, and people pitied her. Herbert especially, who lured her to take an interest in the world by going to theaters with him. I had forgotten to mention that my brother was well to do, though short.

For a broken hearted girl Mary was fairly jolly, and I commented upon the fact. Herbert explained that he was taking her out of herself. This meant taking her into places of amusement.

One fatal day (fatal to my brother's love story in its second and enlarged edition) I bought the Herald to read the daily installment of indignant correspondence on the subject of the now famous plagiarism. And this is what I read:

Sir—I have on my return to New York just received various copies of your widely read journal, which have been awaiting me. I am much astonished to become acquainted for the first time with the storm which has blown up in my absence apropos of my work, "A Secret Vow." Permit me to make a tardy apology to the public through the medium of your extensively circulated columns by stating that in elaborating the story "On His Oath," which appeared some years ago, into my successful book I should have acknowledged my indebtedness to the former novel and have avowed myself as I do now, your obedient servant, its author, ERIC FRODSHAM.

INITIAL DISCOURSE

Rev. W. H. Wylder, New Pastor at Centenary Church Preached to Large Audience Sunday Morning.

Rev. W. H. Wylder, the new pastor at Centenary church, preached his first sermon at the church Sunday morning and was greeted with a large audience. His text was taken from the last chapter of Revelations and his theme was "Worship God." It was a masterful discourse and the eloquence and logic of the speaker thrilled his hearers and left a deep impression upon the hearts of all present. The sermon was a splendid defense of the need of man's soul for religious teaching and his arguments were stated in a strong manner that appealed to reason and common sense. He showed that all mankind, in the primitive, as well as in the refined and civilized state, reaches out in an attempt to find a greater power. Religion is an instinctive sense and worship is only a natural consequence.

The discourse was replete with high thoughts well expressed and driven home in a convincing manner.

At the conclusion of the service the members of the congregation came forward to meet the new pastor and the hearty and cordial greeting extended augurs well for a loyal bond of fellowship and co-operation between pastor and people, an indispensible requisite in the success of any organization.

FUNERALS

ENGLISH.

The funeral of Raymond, son of Rev. and Mrs. Nathan English, was conducted from the family residence, 511 East College avenue, at 12 o'clock noon Monday, by Rev. George E. Scrimger, assisted by Rev. Messrs. C. F. Baker, W. McK. McElfresh and H. H. Oneal. Each speaker offered words of comfort and consolation to the bereaved parents and friends and spoke beautifully of the Christian's hope beyond the grave. Suitable music was furnished by Misses Ailsie Goodrick, Aileen Arenz, Lora Common and Edwin Jackson. There were quantities of beautiful flowers, the gifts of sympathetic friends, and were in charge of Mrs. Joseph Breckon, Mrs. Morrison, Misses Carrie and Lulu Morrison, Mrs. Phillips and Miss Burgesser. At the close of the mournful services the remains were tenderly borne to their last resting place in New Salem. The bearers were: Alfred Jackson, N. Maddox, Paul Breckon and Henry Lindsay.

A gratifying number of parishioners came in to attend the funeral, though the roads were very bad. It showed their sympathy and the esteem in which the worthy pastor and his estimable wife are held among those to whom they minister.

At New Salem a large concourse awaited the arrival of the funeral party. The school children of the place turned out in a body and placed flowers on the grave, forming an impressive spectacle. The solemn services were in charge of Rev. L. Parsons, pastor at New Salem, assisted by Rev. W. D. Drake, pastor of the M. E. church at Griggsville. Joseph Breckon and several persons from this city accompanied the family to New Salem, where repose the bodies of Mrs. English's mother and other relatives.

DAY.

The funeral of Mrs. Manuel Day was conductel from the residence at 535 Hooker street, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The services were in charge of Rev. R. F. Thrapp, who spoke words of comfort and solace to the bereaved family and friends.

A choir, consisting of Misses Cora Graham and Georgia Brockman, and William Wolfe and C. L. Hayden, sang the following selected hymns: "Nearer, My God to Thee," "My Savior as Thou Wilt" and "Shall We Gather at the River?" Many beautiful flowers bore mute testimony to the high esteem in which Mrs. Day was held.

Following the services at the residence the remains were borne to Jacksonville cemetery for interment. The bearers were C. L. Hayden, A. J. Hayden, George Douglas, James Watt, H. C. Clement and Daniel McCarthy.

DEATH RECORD

WOODMANSEE.

J. F. Woodmansee, an old and respected citizen of this county, passed away at his home in Waverly Sunday evening at 9:30 o'clock, at the age of 69 years. Death was due to Bright's disease, from which he had been a sufferer for about two and a half years, having been bedfast for many months.

Mr. Woodmansee was born Dec. 24, 1835, in Butler county, Ohio. He was educated in the public schools and at the White River college, Richmond, Ind., from which school he graduated. He came to Illinois in 856 and settled in Macoupin county near Scottville, where he was married in 1858 to Miss Mildred F. Seymour, who died thirty-five years ago. He was again married in 1870 to Miss Mary A. Givens, who survives him.

Mr. Woodmansee served through the civil war as a sergeant in Company B, 122nd Illinois volunteers, of which regiment Col. John I. Rinaker was commander.
